

Richard White, Director at Maybe Business (www.maybebusiness.co.uk) had a very last-minute challenge; he needed to urgently recruit delegates for a media project in Aylesbury Vale and a business start-up programme in Bletchley Park.

Within 2 hours of the brief, Amanda devised two separate Social Media programmes to reflect the requirements of each programme. The programmes achieved a cumulative reach of almost 3,000 people, which resulted in Richard finding 5 perfect candidates.

1 month later, the 5 candidates have settled extremely well into their programmes, they are making great progress and delivering a strong contribution to the groups that they form part of.

Richard said;

“I cannot overstate how effective Amanda is at what she does”
